TwinLuxe 'Fine Shaving Instruments' pair their expertly crafted razors and brushes with their own luxury men's skincare line to offer out the best at-home shave possible. Three different finished sets were all designed by the Rolls-Royce Phantom designer and suggest a masculine appeal, while including the hand-produced badger hair shaving brush. Made in Germany, the brushes aim to coat the beard hair and exfoliate the skin for the closest, softest shave.

Priced at $788, the Chrome edition is the classic of the three sets and has a mirror finish. Coated with a PVD coating, the Anthracite set has a charcoal finish, heavy-duty protection, and comes with a $1,088 price tag. The most expensive of the three ($1,588) is the limited produced Arctic Shaving Set. Composed of materials typically used in engine parts, the ceramic is produced in the US and is known for its high resistance to water.
